

NO, NONE, EVERY (ONE), EACH (ONE)

TASK 1: AUCTION HOUSE, czyli gramatyczna licytacja

Przeczytaj opis nietypowej licytacji. W każdym zdaniu brakuje jednego z poniższych wyrazów:

NO / NONE / EVERY / EACH / EVERY ONE / EACH ONE

Uzupełnij luki odpowiednimi wyrazami. Nie wszystkie muszą być użyte. Niektóre mogą się powtarzać.

It was a strange auction. (1) _____ of the paintings had a frame, which was odd considering the prices. The auctioneer started yelling excitedly: "Ladies and gentlemen, (2) _____ of these works is a masterpiece! Look closely - (3) _____ has its own story, its own mystery!"

People were curious, but also confused. "There's (4) _____ information about the artists, and (5) _____ seems to be unsigned. We can't verify the authorship of a single one!"

Still, a collector stood up and said: "I'll buy (6) _____ of them, frame or not."

NO, NONE, EVERY (ONE), EACH (ONE)
